Author: John Charles

Release Date: Expected @@expectedReleaseDate@@

Here is your chance to discover the absolute joy and sense of fulfilment which you will get from learning to play one of the world's most popular instruments. This is not an academic course, it is primarily a course with one aim - to get you playing and enjoying this instrument as quickly as possible. This is the very same course that I teach on a weekly basis to my face to face students, the only main difference is that they pay an awful lot more for it! It takes you step by step from complete beginner to a very acceptable level of playing. And no, you won't be able to play like Eric Clapton overnight, but you will be learning, step by step, how to play and produce very nice songs and melodies which will be the envy of your family and friends. Being able to play the guitar opens up a whole new world to you, and speaking from personal experience, it is a world which I have never regretted entering. Come and join me and see for yourself.
